The four evaluation protocols differ only in which patients and clips are assigned to the test set